

GERMAN U-BOAT TAKES MORE AMERICAN LIVES

One American Is Known to Have Been Killed and Many Are Reported Lost in Attack.

NO WARNING GIVEN SUBMARINE VICTIMS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 31.—Two British steamers, the Snowden Range and the Booth Liner Crispin, both with Americans aboard, of whom a number are unaccounted for, were reported to the State Department today to have been sunk without warning by a submarine.

On the Crispin, the torpedo that struck the engine room killed five men, two of whom are believed to have been Americans.

The second of two dispatches from Consul Frost at Queenstown and the sinking of the Crispin definitely established the killing of the one American and said that others probably had been killed. The Crispin was bound for Avonmouth.

"One American, named Hollier," the message said, "was killed by the explosion. Total killed and missing now eight, of whom some besides Hollier were Americans."

"Some survivors landed as follows: Nineteen at Queenstown; seventy at Milford Haven; two at Dunmore, Ireland, and thirteen are on board an Admiralty vessel, to land at Queenstown tomorrow."

WAR ZONE TO BE EXTENDED

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 31.—The British Admiralty announces that, in view of the unrestricted use of mines and submarines by the Germans and the sinking of merchantmen without regard for the safety of their crews, the area of the North Sea is rendered dangerous to all shippings by operation against the enemy, will be extended on and after April 1."

ARMY SURGEONS WILL LEARN SUCCESSFUL METHOD TREATING WOUNDS

Complete portable military unit hospital is to be erected on its grounds at once by the Rockefeller Institute For Medical Research.

New York, There, under the leadership of Dr. Alexis Carrel, who has won world fame in war surgery. In France, the Carrel-Dakin method of treating infected wounds is to be practiced on a limited number of patients and taught to army surgeons, public health experts and Red Cross nurses. Wooden structures are to be built at once, and it is hoped to open the wards within ten weeks, by which time it is expected that Dr. Carrel will receive a furlough from the French government and will be back in America ready to take charge.

Two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated by the institute to finance the new project, which has the hearty endorsement of Surgeon General Gorgas of the army and other authorities. There are to be accommodations for 100 patients.

Council of National Defense and its advisory commission.

A three-hour joint session to deal with the immediate emergency facing the country was held at the War Department today, with the full membership of both council and commission in attendance.

The seven members of the commission will remain continuously in Washington until Congress has acted and a national policy as to the German situation has been determined.

Plans of the defense council are contingent upon the policy to be approved by Congress. For that reason, details of the plans for co-ordinating all the energies and resources of the nation are being held as confidential.

TREATED WITH ALL COURTESY

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 31.—A Berlin dispatch to Reuter's by way of Amsterdam emphatically denies reports that Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium, has suffered any violations of his privileges.

The dispatch says that Mr. Whitlock will be granted every privilege of a neutral diplomat until he crosses the frontier, and that all obligations in regard to the American representatives of the Belgian Relief Commission will be strictly observed.

The American Embassy never has had a special American courier, continues the dispatch, but always borrowed the services of a Dutch courier.

It is further stated that Mr. Whitlock was given the same treatment as Count von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States with the difference that while von Bernstorff's telegraphic communications with Berlin was interrupted on the breach of diplomatic relations, Mr. Whitlock was permitted to receive all telegrams addressed to him, even when in cipher.

GERMAN RAIDER ACTIVE

(Associated Press Cable)

Rio de Janeiro, March 31.—A new German raider, slipping past the British warships on guard in the North Sea, has reached the South Atlantic and sent nine or more merchantmen to the bottom.

According to survivors from the sunken vessels, the vessel is the Seeadler, a formidable armed craft operating with the same success and daring as its predecessor, the Moeve, which recently returned to a German port after playing havoc with shipping in the same waters.

News of the activities of the raider was brought to Rio Janeiro by the French bark Camborne, which arrived here yesterday.

She had on board 285 men from the crews of vessels sunk by the raider.

The Camborne encountered the raider on March 7 at latitude 21 south, longitude 7 west, a point in the Atlantic almost on a line with Rio Janeiro and about two-thirds of the way to the African coast.

After the survivors had been put on the Camborne she was ordered to proceed to the coast of Brazil, a voyage of twenty-two days.

According to the Jornal Do Brazil, the raider was loaded with mines, which explained the destruction of vessels off the coast of Brazil.

The commerce destroyer is reported to be armed with two guns of 105 millimeters and sixteen machine guns. The vessel has three masts and is equipped with wireless. Its crew consists of sixty-four men, under the command of Count Ucker.

They say that the commander declared that the German Emperor and the Crown Prince alone knew of the expedition.

No complaints have been made as to the treatment of the sailors while they were prisoners on board the raider.

They gave the name of the boat as the Seeadler, and said that she was provisioned for eighteen months and had a great quantity of munitions and explosives.

On sighting a merchantman, the raider hoisted a Norwegian flag, which was replaced by the German ensign when her prey was within reach of her guns.

Among the refugees are two women, the wives of two of the captains of the sunken ships.

PEACE DOVE STILL HOVERS

(Associated Press Cable)

Amsterdam, via London, March 31.—A Vienna dispatch quotes Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, as saying in an interview that the Entente could conclude an honorable peace with the Central powers at any time, and that the proposal of the Central Powers for a peace conference still held good.

CAPTURED "SUBS" PROVE TO BE NAVAL TARGETS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, March 31.—The mystery of the eighteen submarines reported captured by an American warship in an anonymous cable message from Panama, said to have been seen by passengers on the steamship Advance off Watling Island, was cleared today by the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas H. Candor, of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, passengers on the steamship Carrillo, from Panama.

The clergyman said that the reported U-boats were merely a procession of harmless naval targets in tow of seven warships, each warship having lines attached to two or three targets.

The Carrillo, bound for New York, passed the "captured submarines" off San Salvador about the time that the Advance steamship, southward, did likewise. Dr. and Mrs. Candor were on their way home from Bogota.

CO-OPERATION IS INCREASING

(Associated Press Cable)

Paris, March 31.—Another step toward making the laborer a business partner, participating in both the profits and management of enterprises in which he is employed, is being taken in France. The senate has adopted the principle of a bill amending corporation laws so as to permit the allotment of shares to workmen collectively in any establishment to be held for all employees of one year's standing or more, for the distribution of the dividends among them.

In case of dissolution the capital stock will be shared between all the shareholders, those holding labor shares as well as capital shares. Wage earners under this measure also may participate in the management of the corporation.

The law provides exemption in favor of corporations formed under this law which it is hoped may help solve the problem of conflicts between capital and labor and reduce the number of strikes which increased in France from 261 in 1892 to 1073 in 1913.

This law, it is held, will make mining shares less risky. Capital now hesitates at investment in these stocks because of the frequency of strikes. The bringing of capital and labor into closer co-operation in this way has been one of Premier Briand's favorite projects.

The law under discussion, of course cannot make it obligatory upon all corporations to accept the participation of their employees; it only encourages it by offering advantages that other corporations do not enjoy.

CENSURE OF GERARD IS UNJUST

Former U. S. Ambassador Given Clean Bill in Reichstag Discussion.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 31.—Former United States Ambassador Gerard was the subject of discussion in the Reichstag on Thursday, according to a Berlin dispatch to Reuter's by way of Amsterdam.

The discussion was precipitated by Herr Werner, a member of the pan-German faction, who criticizes certain incidents of the banquet given to Mr. Gerard by the American Association of Commerce and Trade, of Berlin.

Foreign Secretary Zimmerman replied that Mr. Gerard complained in regard to several Americans who had published pamphlets attacking him, and who had founded a so-called league of truth.

Mr. Zimmerman said that proceedings were to be taken against these gentlemen, whom American Ambassador described as his bitterest enemies.

"As far as the pamphlets were concerned," the Foreign Secretary is quoted as saying, "I made inquiries in the interest of the State and found the allegations unfounded."

"For the rest, they represented differences of opinion between Americans and their ambassador, and these I did not touch."

"I considered it my duty, as long as the Ambassador was here, to treat him with necessary deference."

Deputy Werner desired that complaints against Mr. Gerard should be answered, and Mr. Zimmerman replied:

"I investigated the complaints, and they were undoubtedly incorrect, especially that relating to passports."

EXPECT CALL ANY MOMENT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., March 31.—National Guard officers in Columbus today were momentarily expecting orders for a general mobilization of the Ohio Guard.

Should such a call come, it was said that the troops probably would be mobilized at Camp Perry.

The Sixth Ohio Regiment of Infantry, which has not yet been mustered out of the Federal service since returning from the Mexican border, today was doing guard duty "somewhere in Ohio."

The Sixth Regiment has headquarters in Toledo and comprises troops from northwestern Ohio.

BRINGS ACTION TO ENJOIN THE S.-S. DIRECTOR

Late Friday afternoon Solicitor Gregg, Post & Reid, A. C. Patton and Nye Gregg, upon request of R. C. Hunt, as taxpayer of the city of Washington, filed suit in common pleas court to enjoin James Hillery, Safety Service Director, and Thomas Hillery from entering into a contract for flushing and cleaning the paved streets of the city as result of the action of the Board of Control at a recent meeting. The style of the suit is The City of Washington against James Hillery, as Safety-Service Director of the City, and Thomas Hillery.

The petition is a very lengthy one, and to it is annexed the written request of R. C. Hunt for the action as filed.

The petition is very similar to that filed last fall when injunction was sought and obtained when James Hillery, as Service-Safety Director, voted twice and declared the flushing contract awarded to Thomas Hillery. Beginning at the time when the first named defendant was appointed to the dual capacity which he now holds, the petition recites the various steps leading up to the recent action of the Board of Control in "pretending" to award the flushing contract.

Attention is called to the Wilt bid as being "several thousand dollars per year lower than the Hillery bid," and that neither the Wilt nor Hillery bid submitted provided for cost per front foot; that the Service-Safety Director "regardless of the law and rights of the plaintiff and taxpayers of said city," refused to award contract to James S. Wilt; that legal action was taken and a perpetual injunction awarded the city against the Service-Safety Director awarding the contract to Thomas Hillery, and that the action is still pending in the Court of Appeals.

Attention also is called to no money having been available at the time of entering into such contract, or since.

Mention of the recent meeting of the Board of Control is then made, and the action taken, which plaintiff declares is illegal and "wholly without authority of law."

Plaintiff asks that the pretended contract be adjudged null and void, and that defendants be enjoined from entering into such contract as contemplated, and that a perpetual injunction be issued.

Saturday morning Attorney Joseph Hidy, representing Mr. Hillery, presented a copy of the contract to Solicitor Gregg, who declares the contract submitted was similar to the old one, with exception of the change of date, and no mention of rebate was made.

LARGE AUDIENCE GREATLY PLEASED

The large audience which assembled at Grace church Friday night to hear Miss Gay Zenola MacLaren, imitative genius and last number of the Washington Lyceum Course, was not disappointed in the gifted little woman of whom they had expected much.

For two solid hours the audience set wrapt in close attention while Miss MacLaren gave "Within The Law," imitating every character in voice and mannerism, and presenting the play, which she had not given for one month, she never hesitated for an instant, and from space she summoned her large company of players at will, and as promptly dismissed them at the proper instant.

Her presentation of "Within the Law," with the exception of the stage settings, was deemed by many as being almost as good as attending the original production.

And it was all the more wonderful, to know that Miss MacLaren had at her tongue's end 21 additional plays of almost equal complexity and length, and could give them at a moment's notice.

From the moment she stepped upon the stage until she rung down the curtain in the last scene, Miss MacLaren held her audience as few readers can. She first won her audience by being natural and perfectly at her ease.

While receiving congratulation after her difficult recital, Miss MacLaren told how she started giving imitative recitals, stating that while a school girl of 14 and in very modest circumstances she heard her first play, "The Sign of the Cross," and was so "crazy" about it that she slipped away from home night after night to hear the same production until after a few times she could give the entire play, word for word and imitating every character. She gave this as her commencement work.

The Old Becomes New

Perhaps the greatest inducements to those who seek investments in lands and to those who seek an opportunity to wrest a living from the soil, are to be found today in the southern states.

That territory which was settled early in the history of the nation and which has long since been "passed up" by the home seeker and investor is again holding out an opportunity.

The great land estates of the south are being broken up into small tracts, the cotton plantations are passing, the swamps are being drained, the timber cut off and those vast stretches which up until a few years ago were only cultivated sufficiently to provide a living for the owner and his servants are passing into the hands of speculators who divide them into small tracts and sell them to the men who, from fancy or necessity, desire to indulge in intensive farming.

A new era is opening up for the southern states. Many "land poor" families are destined to become rich in real money and that for the reason that the prolonged scourge of the boll weevil has made cotton growing unprofitable and compelled the land owning aristocracy to place its lands in the hands of those men who will, at a profit of course, pass it over to those who know how to do something with land besides raise cotton.

Right now the south is the Mecca for investors and home seekers. The "go west" slogan which has held good for so long must now be "go south."

In Time of Emergency

In times of actual war and in times of preparation for war—times like the United States is now passing through and—times like France is now passing through—the republic is not able to centralize its power and mobilize its forces and its resources as easily as an empire.

Germany's readiness for war is the other side of the picture. The republic is handicapped in its efforts by a divided and a limited governmental authority and the freedom of the people, in all matters, not common to more despotic governments.

In times of war or preparation for conflict the people of a republic must first, if they are to succeed, enlarge the powers of the executives, they must submit to limitations of their freedom not tolerated in a free government under normal conditions, they must put their trust in some one to work out in secret the great problem of husbanding the forces and the resources of the nation.

There cannot be, without disaster, in times of war the divided authority and the disagreements so common in peace times.

President Wilson is to ask Congress when it convenes on April second, to enlarge his powers so that he may proceed unhampered with the work of preparation.

The necessity for enlarged powers is evident and urgent and Congress should not handicap the president and increase the danger to the nation by refusing to grant his requests.

Bethman Hollweg's Speech

Bethmann Hollweg the German Chancellor has made another speech in the Reichstag. It correctly expresses the war party's idea of diplomacy and international relations as affecting the German Empire.

The chancellor announced that Germany did not want war with United States and if war between the two nations came that the responsibility would rest entirely with the United States.

The German people are not all, by any means, in accord with the "ruthless" submarine campaign and are questioning, more and more the wisdom and the justice of conduct which places them in a hostile attitude toward practically all the great nations of the earth.

With Russia, with France, with Belgium, with England, with Italy, not to mention the smaller nations, and now with the United States, the fault has, in no instance, been Germany's, according to the chancellor.

After all Hollweg, being one of the originator of that present Prussian diplomacy, which boldly announces that all the world must submit placidly to any form of aggression which the war party may devise or be responsible for all that happens may have been sincere in his announcement on Thursday.

If Hollweg and his associates believe any such monstrous doctrine, as that which has been repeatedly announced, they are more of a menace to humanity than the world has realized. If they do not they are dishonest with the great German people.

Each speech of the German chancellor adds its proof that the Prussian military power is irrevocably committed to the doctrine of a reign of terror and that to accomplish its aims would, and does, descend to falsehood and dishonesty.

It is difficult to believe that men of marked ability could in this the twentieth century honestly believe and such doctrine as Hollweg has been called upon to assert with regard to Germany's conflict with all the great nations.

Poetry For Today

THE ROAD O' DREAMS.
Far from the course of time,
Where the silver light of the moon shines clear,
The vesper call-bells chime,
Always, it seems,
Luring, with schemes,
You to the road o' dreams.

And wild and free are the thoughts that arise
In breasts of the pilgrims there,
And bold is the message flashed from the skies:
"A breath for those who dare."
Only what seems
Sheds golden gleams
Out on the road o' dreams.

Few of its sweets are real
Compared to joys that are ever at hand
When day dreams o'er you steal,
What it what seems
With reality teems,
There in the road o' dreams.

And so we are prone our faith to re-new
Daily at eventide,
Knowing our souls will be soaring to view
Joys our flesh is denied,
Faith in what seems—
Out in the road o' dreams.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, March 31.—Democratic organization of the House seemed assured today, when it became known that illness will prevent the attendance at the opening session Monday of Representative Henry T. Heiggen, Republican, of North Dakota, and Capstick, of New Jersey, also Republican.

Backers of Champ Clark expressed confidence today that at least two Republicans would vote for him for Speaker, although they declined to name the men.

Appointment of a committee on committees of seventeen members and a steering committee of seven members, with the Speaker as chairman of each, was recommended in resolutions adopted by a Republican committee appointed to submit organization plans to the conference later today.

This action was said to have been unanimous. Republican Leader Mann is expected to be the nominee for Speaker, and the proposed steering committee would take up the question of naming a floor leader to succeed him if he is elected.

No attempt was made to have the committee recommend a floor leader in case of Mr. Mann's election, according to Representative Madden, its chairman.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

One of the most beautifully planned events ushering in the hospitalities of the week was the card party given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunlap Monday evening in compliment to their charming house guest, Mrs. E. M. Helleig of Atlanta, Ga. In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap and the honoree were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maynard of Washington, D. C., who had the pleasure of meeting the guests as they came. The attractive rooms were suggestive of spring, exquisite pink tulips and snapdragons being arranged effectively. Fifteen tables of players enjoyed the evening, and an elaborate and pretty luncheon was served after the game, the appointments carrying out the hue of the pink and white blossoms.

SANDERSON-CYCLONE DRILL CO. DECLARES LIBERAL DIVIDEND

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Sanderson-Cyclone Drill Company at Orrville, this week, the same officers were chosen and a dividend of seven per cent on the preferred stock and six per cent on the common stock was declared, and a snug sum left in the treasury as a working fund.

The stockholder selected the following directors: R. R. Sanderson, Will Ford, O. J. Waddel, Earl McLean and Paul Hildebrandt. In the reorganization R. R. Sanderson was made president and general manager Will Ford vice-president, and Paul Hildebrandt secretary-treasurer.

The year's business was very satisfactory and showed a great increase over that of the previous year. Many orders have been declined because of the fact that the plant is running full capacity and has orders booked for eight months ahead. Lack of prompt arrival of material also prevented a still larger business the past year.

WOMEN'S FEDERATED CLUB MEETING IMPORTANT SUBJECTS FOR CONSIDERATION

There is also other business of importance to consider.
For several years the National Red Cross and National League of Women's Service have stretched out over the United States, urging women to devote time to the study of those things which make of them efficient citizens in times of great need.
There has been a hearty response all over the country, especially in the last few months, stimulated, no doubt, by the growing realization of impending war.
As patriotic women, all members of the Federation are urged to be present at the meeting on Thursday, the 5th, to consider the possibility of undertaking study along those lines.

OHIOANS URGED TO RAISE "TRUCK"

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., March 31.—In response to unusual interest in gardening and to carry out the intent of the Governor's proclamation in regard to agricultural preparedness, the Ohio State University is offering every possible service through information and assistance from its staff of seventy-five workers in the agricultural extension service.

Hundreds of thousands of copies of the vacant lot and back yard gardeners' handy guide, illustrated, are being distributed in an effort to satisfy the enormous demand. If the presses can continue to turn out the pamphlets fast enough quantities of these will be mailed without cost to the public officials, public spirited persons, or organizations which will see that they are properly distributed. Single copies may be had free at the office of the county agricultural agent in each county where such a man is employed, or by writing to the Ohio State University, Columbus.

In addition personal questions on gardening will be answered by specialists of the extension service at Columbus.

A letter is being sent today from the college of agriculture extension service to every mayor in Ohio calling attention to the special offer of the University's service at this time, and emphasizing the importance of the following portion of the Governor's proclamation.

"Food supplies can be grown on vacant lots. Gardens can be turned into use, and those who cannot render defense can be of distinct value by simply husbandry in the same proportion that if a family contribute to its own necessities it will be serving the nation."

"Heartily approval of the city administration and chamber of commerce which plow lots and furnish street sweeping as fertilizer is voiced by the University authorities."

CLARK S. WHEELER,
Director Extension Service.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEK

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.
To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.
They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

DISTRIBUTES OHIO INTERROGATION POINTS

The demand from colleges and high schools and the general public for copies of "Ohio Interrogation Points," the booklet prepared by J. W. Tannehill and issued by Auditor A. V. Donahay, has been so extensive and statewide, in order to supply requests for copies, the state printing commission has found it necessary to publish a fourth edition.

This compilation of interesting and instructive information about Ohio history and government is an indispensable handbook for all Buckeye citizens and should be used for supplementary work in history and civics in every school and college in the state.

Over ten thousand Ohio teachers have secured copies of "Ohio Interrogation Points." There are other thousands who should have this little pamphlet on their desks and use it in their school work.

Any resident of the state who desires a copy can secure same free by writing Auditor A. V. Donahay, Columbus, Ohio.

CHINESE PLAN MODEL SETTLEMENT

(Associated Press Cable.)

Hongkong, March 31.—Chinese capitalists have subscribed $2,000,000 silver for the development of a model Chinese settlement at Kowloon, across Kowloon Bay from Hongkong. Flats now covered by the sea will be reclaimed and a modern city will be constructed.

The new suburb is on English leased territory, and consequently will make a safe residence for prosperous Chinese who desire to settle down where they will be free from the chaos which sometimes prevails in Chinese territory. A wide boulevard will be developed along the sea front, and the streets will be parked in modern style.
